Where President Wilson and His Official Family Will be After the 6th of Next Month

BY H. B. HUNT

Newspaper Enterprise Association.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The real turnover in administrations will take place March 5, not March 4, when the new president is inaugurated, as is generally supposed.

President Wilson, Vice-President Marshall and Secretary to the President Tumulty will yield their jobs March 4. But the cabinet changes will not occur until March 5. The new cabinet nominations will go to a special session of the new Senate on the afternoon of March 4 and will be confirmed.

COLBY

The secretaries' commissions will be made out that night and be on the desk of the new president for his signature when he shows up for work, March 5. The actual swearing in of the new cabinet will take place in each department between 10 o'clock and noon March 5.

"What do you expect to be doing March 5 and immediately thereafter, and where are you going to be?"

This question, put to each of the administration heads, excepting the president, elicited the following answers:

SECRETARY OF STATE COLBY: "I hope to catch an afternoon train to New York and begin to attend to my private business."

SECRETARY OF TREASURY HUSTON: "I'm absolutely without plans either for the immediate or indefinite future. I recently bought a new house here and probably will be enjoying myself at home."

SECRETARY OF WAR BAKER: "I have reservations on the 7 p. m. train for Cleveland. I'll probably put in Sunday unpacking boxes and hanging pictures in a new home and Monday will start in practicing law."

ATTORNEY GENERAL PALMER: "I'll turn the office over to my successor March 5 and for a few days will stay in Washington getting ready for a two or three-week vacation somewhere in the South. Then I'll return to Washington and am seriously considering remaining here in the general practice of law."

POSTMASTER GENERAL BURLISON: "As soon as my successor is qualified I shall leave for Texas to take care of my private interests and get out of politics."

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR PAYNE: "Good taste requires that I stay here until my successor qualifies, and I expect to spend the greater part of March 5 here in the office waiting to turn it over to him. Then I'll go back to private life."

SECRETARY OF NAVY DANIELS: "I'll leave for Raleigh, N. C., the evening of March 5 and arrive there Sunday morning. I'll go home and wash up, then to the Methodist church and ask forgiveness for my sins and greet old friends. Monday morning I'll go down to the News and Observer office, take off my coat, roll up my sleeves and become an editor again."

SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE MEREDITH: "Inauguration Day is Friday. On Saturday I'll start this office over to my successor. I'll compress a vacation into Sunday and on Monday leave for Des Moines. I have greatly enjoyed any experience here, but I'll be mighty glad to get back to my Iowa friends and the publishing business."

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE ALEXANDER: "On the 5th I'll be arranging to take my family back to Galatia, Mo., where I will reopen the old law office that has been closed for 14 years, dust off the books and wait for clients."

SECRETARY OF LABOR WILSON: "I'm not yet, but just what I'll be doing, but I'll probably go to my farm in Bloomsburg, Pa., as soon as relieved of official duties."

As for President Wilson, Secretary Tumulty said: "Mr. Wilson will go directly from the inauguration to his new home at 2340 S street, Washington, and take up his life as a private citizen."

Vice-President Marshall thought a moment. "March 5," he said. "That's me. Well, I think I'll sleep late, pack my trunk and get out of here. First a spell on the Chesapeake coast to get some money, then a trip to Europe with Mrs. Marshall."

As for Tumulty himself, "I'll be practicing law here in Washington and be happy."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The appointment of Charles E. Hughes as secretary of state caused no surprise in Washington and was generally acceptable in the senate, although some leaders are fearful that his views are

To the Young And to the Old The Same Appeal.

To folks of all ages, Florida has an irresistible appeal, most difficult to analyze or explain. A land of enchantment it has ever been since the days of the venturesome explorers four hundred years ago. A land of enchantment it will always be to charm and fascinate the seeker after health, pleasure, or wealth.

The children simply revel in the warmth and gladness of the perpetual sunshine; in the long stretch of white sandy beach; in the invigorating waters of the foaming Atlantic. For them—the youngsters of today—the festoons of Spanish moss shelter a thousand fairies; the glories of the gorgeous sunsets and the beauties of the rainbow reflected in the flowers complete the spell. To the children this is truly Fairyland.

And those who are no longer children find in these same scenes a similar delight although interpreted in very different terms. For them, many a little world weary after strenuous years in the whirl and bustle of the large cities, the TRIPLE CITIES have much to offer. Experience teaches all that with its glamour, strife and vanity, life is harder in the city, the circle of friends smaller, and the freedom and neighborliness of rural communities altogether lacking.

Nearly everyone sooner or later looks forward and dreams of the time when he can turn from the strain and grind of life in the large cities and find a home spot somewhere, away from the jar, the jostle, and heart-breaking competition in the mad rush for position and wealth. Life in the great outdoors as enjoyed in THE TRIPLE CITIES every month in the year will pay the greatest dividends in true contentment, better health and longer life. You who are not already permanently located here are earnestly invited to call this "home."

FORMER PENSACOLA POLICEMAN HUNTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

PENSACOLA, Feb. 19.—John Holland, lately a member of the police department here, is being hunted on a serious charge tonight. He is alleged to have invited a young married woman to take an automobile ride last night and she charges in an affidavit today that she was brutally assaulted and left unconscious in a room. When found she was wandering about in the woods, in a dazed condition, with her face beaten and bloody, and her clothing torn and disarranged.

Holland who was said to have been drinking, was known to have remained in the city two hours after the occurrence and when he first relatives of the woman were on their way to his place to have taken an automobile and left the city. He is charged with rape, the theft of an automobile and criminal assault. Being a running mate in the woman was very prominent in social circles here.

EDISON RIDICULES INVENTION TALKING MACHINE IN SWEDEN

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 19.—"Nonsense," exclaimed Thomas Edison today, when reporters sought an interview with him about an report from Stockholm that a speaking machine project had been invented there. "I've done talking pictures eight or nine years ago," he said, "why don't you fellows get up to date?"

Japanese matches may no longer be called "matchsticks." The Edison match has been hiding his light under a Swedish bush.

NORTH CAROLINA MUST RAISE FARES TO MEET INTERSTATE CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Passenger fares and excess baggage charges in effect in North Carolina today were held by the Interstate Commerce Commission as unduly prejudicial to the interstate commerce and ordered them raised to the level of interstate rates, effective March 25.

Sunday Delivers Eloquent and Masterful Sermons to Two Big Audiences at Beach Saturday

"Billy" Sunday in his supreme height of oratory, eloquence, slang and acrobatic gestures, delivering one of the greatest sermons, held the intense interest of his capacity audience, won over many, and reached a most beautiful climax to his sermon, on the subject, "The Mercies of God," taken from Romans, 12:1. "I beseech you brethren, by the mercies of God to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, which is acceptable in his sight," at the evening Sunday services at the Auditorium Saturday evening.

The many who have attended all of the Sunday services were heartily in proclaiming this the strongest sermon delivered by the renowned evangelist since the opening of his campaign here.

The huge Auditorium was taxed to capacity and were swayed by the light of eloquence to street far from the noted preacher.

There will be no Sunday morning service at the Auditorium, but the regular afternoon and evening sermons, starting at 2:30 and 8:30. Monday afternoon Mr. Sunday and his party will motor to Mt. Dora, where the evangelist will deliver a sermon to the court house there. This will necessitate the cancelling of his Monday sermon here, but the evening program will be held.

The services were opened by the usual musical program, the choir rendering several hymns. A feature of the musical rendition was a duet by Homer Rodchever, in charge of the music of the Sunday campaigns, and Mr. Reuven of Jacksonville, "Dittin' With the Tide," and a solo by Prof. James Heaton.

The introductory prayer was made by Rev. Rightmire of the Baptist church.

Going to the improvised pulpit in his characteristic athletic manner, Mr. Sunday launched into his sermon with his whole soul. His topic was repaying God for the many mercies bestowed upon mortals and mostly unnoticed, by giving body, mind, heart and soul to his service.

Long faced preachers, whom the evangelist termed as "having a face long enough to drink milk from a churn" so called social leaders, whose only destination in life is "hell, and leading many others with them" and those who think they have been overlooked in the mercies of God, fell the victims of the evangelist's slashing tongue.

In starting his sermon Mr. Sunday reminded his hearers of the thankful words they should hold in their hearts that they still retain their eyesight, hearing, breathing powers, and are not crippled—thankful of the health, which is a great mercy of God.

In bearing out this idea he recalled that God has made faces to be graced by, and those so doing shall be rewarded. He urged that all should meet with love, be met with love, met in charity and be met with charity, etc.

In urging all to give their souls, body and mind and hearts to God, the evangelist stated in regard to the many donations received by the church, that he had given his body to God, "If you had given your hands to God, he would have knocked you down from a dollar or so when that pan got by."

"Should you give your mouth to God?" he stated, "conspiring, lying and ill speaking of others, would be things of the past. What a beautiful and wonderful old world this would be if every one was given to speaking kindness, instead of lying and gossiping about their neighbors."

"Should you give your feet to God, some of you would be lifting an upper lip from that you are now following. You should travel where you are kind and charity come instead of passing through a life of misery."

"Should you give your hands to God, some of you would be busy taking back something you had illegally taken from another and others would be laughing up something to help carry on God's work here on earth."

In emphasizing the mercies of God to those "mortal, miserable small fellows," the evangelist referred to sleep. "And say," he stated, with a broad smile, "sleeping his countenance." "If you don't think sleep a mercy of God do without it for several nights."

"They say Napoleon was a wonder when it came to going without sleep. He went with only two hours sleep a night. When it comes to sleeping less and eating less Uncle William has Napoleon backed off the boards."

"And then, judges the hospital as a mercy of God. What of the soothing hand of the nurses, the soft, professional, life saving skillful use of the surgeon's knife. If it wasn't for this mercy, consider the great number of times the hearers would have been in the interstate commerce and ordered them raised to the level of interstate rates, effective March 25.

The evangelist also called attention

WOMAN IS DASTARDLY ATTACKED

MRS. T. A. CHASTAINE STRUCK DOWN, ROBBED OF PURSE ON ORANGE AVE. SATURDAY NIGHT

While walking alone on the north side of Orange avenue, just west of Ridgewood avenue, about 10 o'clock Saturday evening, Mrs. Elizabeth Chastaine, of 165 South First street, was brutally attacked by an unknown assailant, who struck her severely on the top of the head with an iron bar, knocking her purse and having her feety calling for help.

Accompanied coming by a few moments later found her lying on the edge of the sidewalk, fast losing consciousness, from the shock and loss of blood from the wound inflicted. C. J. Christ, who resides but several hundred feet west of the spot of attack, was called and carried the unfortunate woman into his home, where Dr. Merryday was immediately called, to give first aid.

She was later taken to Dr. Klock's hospital for the night, the doctor believing that she would recover from the wound, as she was suffering from extreme shock and loss of blood rather than from a concussion from the blow.

Mrs. Chastaine, who is employed at the Theus-Sumner Furniture company and who lived with her son, Thomas Chastaine, on First avenue, just around the corner from the spot where she was attacked, stated that she saw no one, and that the blow was altogether unexpected. She felt the impact, and realized that her purse was gone, containing some $15. No jewelry was taken, the assailant evidently making his getaway immediately after she fell.

The spot where the brutal attack on Mrs. Chastaine was made was directly opposite a free, behind which her assailant might have stood, awaiting his chance to strike her. With an exceptionally bright moonlight last evening, the spot was shaded by the overhanging boughs, while the Christ home was brightly lighted, in plain view of the spot.

Mr. Christ and News representatives returned to the spot shortly after the attack and found lying on the ground a shoe, one foot of blood on the floor, about half-inch in thickness, and 18 inches long, apparently a piece of a Ford car steering bar. Stewart Pratt, a boy who resides directly opposite the spot of the attack on Orange avenue, stated that he was coming home from the picture show about 10 o'clock, he noticed a man standing alongside a tree at the corner of Orange and Ridgewood avenues, and that the man doctored behind the tree as he came along.

The police immediately started a search, but the possible assailant, an arrest having been made at the time the Sunday Morning News went to press.

The contest was a tactical one, and the Pacific fleet, under Admiral Benson, won the day.

The Corsets that Women Like

We like it thus because we will so many of them, and sell them over and over again to other women.

Especially because Werner's is so rich in "shamless" content. It is fashionable to be loose, giving any type of figure line for the most outrageous that are just like the most fashionable clothes, it is the most of them. Women tell us and we think that is because it is so well-made and the fitting is so skillfully done. It is certainly the most remarkable content in the line, because it is a good dress not to suit, but to fit.

Snell and Snell Divide the Honors at Race Meet Saturday; Pathe Weekly Man on Job

by Pete Craig

At a smooth beach, and at approximately 7,000 race cars, the amateur motor races were held Saturday afternoon at the Seabreeze beach. A Pathe Weekly man was on the scene taking some exciting episodes of the races and the scenes throughout the count-down, while Espehl, Warden, took away first honors in the 4th event, four mile turn race for stripped cars. Everett's Packard, driven by Snell, first; Essex, driven by LaRoche and Hypmobile driven by Harton, tied for second honors.

5th event—One mile handicap bicycle race, Espehl, first; Warden, second; Armstrong, third; Johnson, fourth. First prize, pair bicycle pedals; second prize, pocket knife.

6th event—One-half mile bicycle race, Johnson, first; Duhaime, second; Williams, third. First prize, bicycle tire; second prize, pocket knife.

7th event—Clinton challenge three-mile straightaway race, Snell, driving Packard, first; Clinton, driving Essex, third. First prize, silver loving cup; second prize, box of cigars.

8th event—Packard and Hudson Close

All the races were hotly contested, especially the straightaways entered into by both Snell, driving a Packard twin-six, and Clinton, driving a Hudson Speedster. These two cars raced down the beach course at an amazing speed, neck and neck until within a few yards of the finish line when the Hudson by a burst of speed, would dash over the line one or two feet ahead of the Packard. Vengeance was obtained by Snell in the three mile challenge race, however, when the Packard came through the home stretch a good distance ahead of the Hudson, which had outrun the entire field in every other race entered.

The winning of this three mile straightaway from the nearest competitor is the crowning achievement of the Packard. The machine is owned by R. S. Everett, a lover of sport in every form and was originally a coupe. Mr. Everett had the body stripped from the machine especially to enter it in these races to amuse the thousands of race goers, and the body will be replaced this week, eliminating one of the fastest machines on the beach from future races. The Packard, during the straightaway challenge covered a mile in 49 seconds, making this distance in what is thought to be the fastest speed attained during the amateur events.

Wingate's Ford special was eliminated on account of trouble with the magnetic timing gears, and the outsiders from Miami and Jacksonville, said to have driven to this city with the expressed intention of walking away with the bacon, failed to appear on the scene of action, leaving the competition strictly between home talent.

Movies of Races Taken

The Pathe Weekly cameraman was on the beach at the start of the first race, and obtained some remarkable action scenes, and "shot" the large crowds in attendance, along with a special group picture of the Daytona Beach Motor Racing association. These views will be flashed on the screen in the moving picture theatres throughout the country, and will be a great advertising medium for Daytona Beach, the Triple Cities and the Halifax Country in general.

It has been rumored that plans will be made for races on the beach on Washington's Birthday, this coming Tuesday. So far, the racing association has failed to determine whether or not they should stage these races, and the matter is in doubt.

Race Meet Tuesday Evening

A meeting of the association has been called at the New Gables hotel for Tuesday night at 8 o'clock to lay plans for the coming Saturday afternoon races. It is expected that at least a few of the military planes from Arcadia to be flying over the racing crowd the coming Saturday. Should the service of the army fliers be secured "formation flying" and "stunts" by the aviators would be a big added attraction to the racing program.

"THE STEALERS" IS FILM WITH A SOUL AT NEW DAYTONA

MASTER WORK OF WM. CHRISTY CABANNE, NOTED DIRECTOR, BUILT ON POWERFUL THEME

The picture play with a soul is here. It is "The Stealers", William Christy Cabanne's powerful human document, a Robertson-Cole eight-reel super-special which will be the leading attraction on the bill of the New Daytona theatre Monday and Tuesday. It will have a run of two days, both afternoon and evening.

"The Stealers" as its name implies, is a crook play, but it is the most remarkable play of its sort. The central figure and the one around whom all of the virtue action of the piece revolves, is a clergyman who turns his calling into what he believes a vast mockery of God through the use of God's word as a device for a hand of traveling crooks of which he is the head.

The master-chief, gifted with rare eloquence, holds his audience spell-bound while his confederates gallop among the enchanted emotions relieving them of money and jewelry. His softer eventually repents of his wrongs and again turns to the God he had eschewed and blasphemed goes to make a climax unequalled on the American stage or screen for the sheer intensity of its dramatic force.

The picture has been announced as Mr. Cabanne's masterpiece. From the enthusiastic manner in which it has been hailed by the critics it undoubtedly is. And no wonder. The story has been revolving in Mr. Cabanne's mind for years waiting the time when it should be transcribed into a burning, living entity.

Mr. Cabanne, one of the foremost directors of the country, secured his apprenticeship in the D. W. Griffith school. In writing, directing and producing the picture, Mr. Cabanne has put into the film the wealth of his years of experience in the artistic and technical requirements of play making. It has justly been called his master work.

In his selection of a cast Mr. Cabanne has been fortunate. The part of the villain is played by William H. Tooker, well known actor of the stage and screen, who swept easily and gracefully into his part because of his knowledge of his subject.

ELKS, FAIR TO BE BROUGHT TO CLOSE MONDAY

It will be "nothing to do 'til tomorrow" for the Elks, for today will give them a day of rest from the strenuous endeavor of the big fair which was announced on the program to close after two weeks. For there is going to be another night of the big fair after all and instead of closing Saturday night, as was planned, the fair will be continued Monday night.

It was found absolutely necessary to make this change in the plans, due to an unusual success of the fair and that fact that it was found impossible to make the distribution of the larger prizes before the close of the fair. The phenomenal success of the Elks' fair has drawn attention from near and far and the attendance has been such as to excite comment. Great crowds have been present at the fair every night of the 12 nights the fair has been held and it is expected there will be another large crowd on hand tomorrow evening. There has been no apparent diminishing in the size of the gatherings at the Armory and it is probable that Monday night will also find a big crowd in attendance.

Except for the fact that some of the booths have been cleaned to the bone of their stock, there was nothing to denote a change in the fair scene at the Armory last night from any of the previous nights. The same gay crowd with the ever shifting scene and the same merriment and pleasure that has been manifested on the previous nights, stood out in marked manner last night.

Monday night will see the close of the fair, but it will not by any means shut it out as a lingering subject for thought, for this splendid fair, which has been crowned with elaborate success, will long remain as a pleasant memory by all who have helped to make it the highly creditable and enjoyable affair it has proved and the many thousands who have attended it.

Human Flower Baskets in the "Flower Shop"

Rehearsals for the mammoth musical spectacle, "The Flower Shop," are well under way and the directors, Charles Hilliard and Jack Ward, are well pleased with the talented cast, which the Parent-Teachers Association of the North Ridgewood school has assembled.

News of the cyclonic success of this production in some of the larger cities of the south has reached Daytona and two capacity houses will undoubtedly result. There are to be two performances of this production, matinee at 2:30 and night show at 8:30, Friday, Feb. 25 at the Central High School auditorium.

Charles Hilliard who plays the stellar role in this production will be remembered by Daytona theatre goers as the feature of the George Evans, "Honey Boy" minstrel, and his appearance here will be one of unusual interest. Supporting Mr. Hilliard will be a local cast of nearly two hundred. In all "The Flower Shop" is a big city production, equipped and produced by a master hand.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

The Corsets that Women Like

We know this because we sell so many of them and sell them over and over again to the same customers.

It is probably because Warner's is such an "all-round" corset. It is fashionable in its lines, giving any type of figure those firm, trim contours that are just right under tailored clothes; it is the soul of comfort, women tell us—and we think that is because it is so well-made and the boning is so skilfully placed. It is certainly the most economical corset you can buy, because it is guaranteed not to rust, break or tear.

Suitable Frocks for Morning, Noon and Night of the Week-End Visit

Almost every woman likes to keep on hand an outfit suitable for a week-end trip.

The sports costume with its sleeveless, bandeau of white pique, plaid skirt of tan and brown and tan sweater, answers for forenoon.

The quaint, big flowered silk with its velvet ribbon grille and feather fan hanging from it, its clusters of velvet-centered chiffon roses and its odd turned-back shoulder sleeves that really are not sleeves at all, but "caps" is an appropriate frock for any evening affair. Both of these are worn by Natalie Manning.

Then for afternoons there is Madge

Kennedy's frock of dark blue satin. It would be attractive also in tricotine or serge. The lace "set" plastron and cuffs, is a revival that promises much. This one has a foundation of fine batiste.

With these three frocks any week-end visit anywhere ought to be entirely successful at least from the clothes point of view.

FRANCE WANTS CASH TO CURE WOUNDS

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

BY MILTON BRONNER

PARIS, Feb. 17.—France wants healing, not revenge.

That explains French insistence that Germany shall pay.

It is not a case of trying to grind a foe's face into the dust. It's simply a matter of trying to make that foe repair immeasurable injuries committed during a war.

It is often said by opponents of heavy German reparations that, after all, during the whole war "only" about 7 per cent of French territory was devastated.

Just a comparison.

But—to compare France with America—suppose that 7 per cent included Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Connecticut, Maryland and West Virginia!

It would include our best coal mines, factory towns, eastern farming and sheep-grazing country.

This 7 per cent of France that has been devastated is to the French exactly what those states named are to us. Only our American states comprise many of our biggest cities, whereas devastated France does not include the biggest ones.

But the following list of French cities wrecked, with their population figures, is illuminating:

Rhims	115,178
St. Quentin	55,571
Arras	25,950
Cambrai	27,500
Soissons	14,430
Donai	36,250
Verdun	24,400
Amiens	28,605

MORE ARRESTS MADE OF SUSPECTS IN THE JAX. HOTEL MURDER

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 19.—The Duval county sheriff's office received notice from authorities at Lake Butler, Duval county, today that two men had been arrested there, answering the description of the two men wanted in Jacksonville for the murder of George Goddard of Atlanta, and Walter Burden of Patchogue, L. I. Wednesday night in an attempted robbery at a local hotel. The men were brought to Jacksonville tonight for identification.

Mrs. Burden and her daughter failed to recognize the two men now being held in connection with the murder here, but police are not yet satisfied the men were not connected with the crime and are conducting an exhaustive investigation before releasing them.

Jack Young of Jacksonville was taken into custody by detectives today in connection with the murder. Police claim he answers the description of one of the men and he will be held until Mrs. Burden returns to the

Lens 31,750
Amiens 91,785
In addition to wrecking these cities and to destroying the great coal mines around Lens, the Germans, by the war, brought devastation to 9,000,000 acres of French soil.

Crops Produced

Much of this land before the war was valued at $500 an acre.

What desolation in this territory means can best be grasped from the fact that it produced the following portion of France's crops:

Of wheat	20 per cent
Of oats	24 per cent
Of sugar beets	75 per cent
Of flax	41 per cent
Of hops	70 per cent

The ministry says that 304,191 buildings on this territory have been totally destroyed and 290,425 damaged.

ARGENTINA REFUSES TO GRANT REQUEST OF THE ALLIED COUNTRIES

(International News Service.)
PARIS, Feb. 19.—Argentina today notified the allies that she cannot obey their request to prevent Germany from exporting war materials to Argentina. The Argentine government was asked to prevent exportation of German war materials on the ground that it was a violation of the treaty of Versailles but Argentina contended she is not a party to the treaty, consequently is not bound by it.

SUNDAY

BILLY SUNDAY

Sunday Delivers Eloquent, Mas- terful Sermons

day is prayer. He stated that it was not a shortage of need of men, women or money that troubled the churches, but the laxity in prayer.

In bearing out this declaration the evangelist cited instance after instance where God had been reached and his power worked through prayer. In making plain his conception of prayer the evangelist declared it was not "the two minute a week mumblings of those goodly church members whose only moment devoted to this most important factor in religion was during their sojourn at their church once a week, but the constant hour-a-day confession, unselfish prayer—the prayer of a devoted Christian—the prayer answered by God."

"God is communicated with and touched by prayer, and with prayer and God the world can be moved," stated Mr. Sunday.
In his denunciation of the scarcity of prayer, the greatest trouble with the present day ministers, church goers and others professing to have religion, the evangelist cited the instance of a minister out in Kansas, who, after Sunday had delivered his sermon on this subject, declared the evangelist was doing his brothers an injustice and demanded a practical experiment.

"Go home," Sunday told him, "and tonight, when you kneel to your daily mumblings, called your routine prayer, take out your watch, then, after you have finished your regular prayer, without any special occasion additional glance at the position of the hands."
"Folks, that brother didn't come around for three or four days," Sunday stated, with his broad smile sweeping his face. "When he did return, several days later he was backward and bashful. In making his report on the experiment the minister declared he was ashamed of himself—he thought the watch had stopped during his prayer."

In answer to those complaining of unanswered prayers, the evangelist stated, "behold, the arm of God is not shortened, neither is his ear deafened. 'Tis your sins that stand between you and God. Give and you shall be given all.' In other words, he explained, those who complain of unanswered prayer have either made them with lust, or selfish motives, and have not consecrated their lives enough to God that he should answer their prayers—not that God was deaf to them."

"God is reached through prayer, and the power of God reaps miracles," he stated, citing an instance of every day life to make his appeal more comprehensive, and closer to the hearts of his hearers.

"Shortly after the battle of Gettysburg," he stated, "a committee of relief was formed, to do everything in their power for the suffering soldiers of both the Union and Confederate forces. A very famous lawyer was appointed to this committee, but shortly afterwards his business grew to such an extent he was forced to resign."

"He retired to his office with explicit instructions to his clerk not to be disturbed by those appealing to him for aid."

"One day there came a soldier into the office, hobbling on an unimpaired crutch, his uniform splattered with mire and blood, and bearing every appearance of being in dire need of help."

"To the clerk he explained that he wished to speak with the lawyer, and was told that he no longer was a member of the relief committee. But it would only take a moment, the soldier begged, being met with a flat denial of the interview."

"The lawyer, from his private office, had heard the appeal, and stepping into the outer office, bade the man tell his story."

"I just wanted to tell you that I was with your son Charles when he died at Gettysburg," the soldier stated. "I was with him to the last moment, and I promised him, as his comrade that should I live through myself, I would bring him a message to you."

"The soldier handed the grief-stricken father a blood-soaked note. 'Father and Mother, the note read, 'I'm dying. Treat this man right, he was with me until the last, and did his best to save me. I only wish I could live to aid him as he tried to aid me.' The note ended abruptly—the son had died while writing it."

"The soldier then told of the son's death and where he had buried him. I dragged him to the shade of a big oak. I found him dying in the mud and muck of the battlefield, I myself was slightly wounded. After I had made him comfortable, I crawled to Spangler's Spring and filled the canteen with water to drench his thirst—an' just before he died I promised I would bring this note to you, here it is, S'r, my mission is fulfilled."

"The soldier started to depart, but the father asked him to accompany him to the home. There the story of the brave son's death was repeated to a sobbing mother. The lawyer upon finding that this man was without blood relations, persuaded him to agree to adoption, and gave him everything in life his true son would have received."

"He had appealed through a son to the father, and had been given all," the evangelist declared, strengthening his idea of appeal to God through prayer and church in a story of an episode of everyday life.

The evangelist also told the story of how Stonewall Jackson, the famous fighting general, who devoted one hour a day to prayer, even when on the battle sector.

"During this hour's confession and appeal to God," Mr. Sunday told "a small white handkerchief, dropped in front of the general's tent was the staunch little little sentinel that stood guard over the famous man while he held communion with God. The soldiers, in telling of this story, took pride in their general for this act, and always whoever their story was told to, emphasized their recognition of prayer by tipping their hats near the tent."

Mr. Sunday brought the huge crowd from the point of tears to laughter by giving an eyedropper's impression of how many of his hearers regarded himself. "Some come through love for the novelty, others come to derive benefit, and some come blocked from receiving any knowledge or benefit by wearing a great dense cloud of animosity," he stated. "Some regard me as a liberal volcano gushing with flaming lava at times and raining pretty little driblets a moment later. Some state I am eloquent, well polished master of the king's English at times and a silly, slangy, stinking hobo at others."

In bearing out his appeal for a stemming of the prevalent laxity in prayer the famous evangelist stated he would rather pray one hundred times and preach fifty times, than to preach one hundred times and pray only fifty.

As a result of this laxity "Billy" reverted to statistics—showing that in the past ten years the age of prostitutes has fallen from women of 26 years of age to girls of sixteen, and the general run of criminals has dropped to youths under 21, whereas ten years ago the criminal element was composed mostly of men of 30 and over.

During his sermon the evangelist also jumped those persons who, after

Miss Lola McDonald Wins Popular Girl Contest at the Fair

To dainty Miss Lola McDonald goes the honor of having been acclaimed the most popular girl in the Triple Cities in the Elks' Charity Fair contest, and the pleasure of being awarded a beautiful gold mesh bag. The "popular girl" contest ended, with many others, Saturday evening at the Aznoy, where the Fair has been in full swing for two weeks. Mary Louise Schrag won second place in the contest, and Miss Elsie Morris came in a close third. The second and third prizes were a lavalier and pearly necklace, respectively.

All three of the prizes in this contest were donated to the Elks' Fair by Mrs. Mary T. Burgoine.

On account of the failure of persons selling votes on the Buick automobile, failing to turn in their books by Saturday afternoon, the Buick contest was delayed until Monday night, when the winner's name will be announced. The Fair will be in full swing all Monday evening on this account, and several other delayed contests will be terminated also.

A great number of Fairgoers were winners of different prizes Saturday evening. The following is a list of prizes and the winners: Dr. Molpus, electric table lamp, donated by R. H. LeSene; E. J. Knappe, pair candlesticks, donated by Business and Professional Women's club; Capt. George A. Rowe, wicker chair, donated by Halifax Furniture company; Guy G. Bailey, motor boat spot light, donated by Harry Pepper; Chas. V. Gailer, Wilton rug, donated by Thoms-achieving success in a given field and, or adopt, "big headedness, or small headedness." "Billy" with one of his characteristic movements, and a stirring of clang declared, "When you get the big head, and think you know more about running things than anyone else, God is through with you. God ran this old universe several thousand years before you saw the light, and he'll be making a huge success with it after you croak."

With a scintillating prayer for the deliverance of mankind and installation of power in the speaker so that he may move the huge audience attending these sermons into the path of light, the evangelist closed his sermon, stepping off the platform to shake hands with several hundreds of persons who had been swayed throughout the service by his forceful, slangy, eloquent and altogether deep sermon.

Sumner Furniture company; Edna Dygert, lemonade set, donated by Hamilton hotel; George W. Balch, candelabra, donated by Madame Charlot; Clarice Arroyo, Brussels rug, donated by S. M. Long; W. Bell, doll; Pete Craig, ladies' hand bag, donated by Anthony Bros.; Mrs. John S. Barbe, ivory toilet set, donated by L. H. Rowe; R. H. Hilton, refrigerator, donated by Dunn Bros.; J. D. Adkins, Brahmin rooster and hen, donated by Julian Arroyo; Miss de Lemos, sewing machine, donated by Baggett & Wetherby company.

Saturday evening's session of the Fair was marked by the largest crowd in its brief history. The entire Aznoy was filled to overflowing with a mass of pleasure seeking humanity, all of whom expected this to be the last night.

THE GREAT HALIFAX COUNTRY

is that Nature-favored territory embraced from Ormond on the north, to the Mosquito Inlet on the south, and includes the towns of Ormond, Ormond Beach, Seabreeze, Holly Hill, Daytona Beach, Ortona, Wilbur, Port Orange, Allandale and the City of Daytona—that territory where Nature, in all her glory, has showered down blessings of beauty and bounteous gifts of sublime grandeur; where the sun and tropical moon paint glorious pictures far beyond the gift of man—that stretch of wonderful country along both sides of the Halifax River, where the blessings of Nature have been lavished with a generous hand.

The entire Halifax Country is a "locality of homes," where those who wish to make the most of life have gathered—in winter, and in summer—to live where living can be enjoyed for 365 days each year. The people are cosmopolitan; they are generous and they are of the class who welcome others to join them and build homes, or spend the balmy days of winter in the wonderful hotels which the territory possesses, or to gather in the summer and spend days when other localities are sweltering with heat, in a climate that is pleasant during the entire year.

Reside in the Halifax Country, where health and contentment go hand in hand, where right living creates an atmosphere of refinement which is contagious and adds zest and power to every man, woman and child throughout the entire section. Favored by nature, and abundantly watered by rivers and streams, which never overflow, this portion of the universe is accessible by rail, water or motor, and provides roads which are the delight of automobilists and includes the finest beach in the world.

Every citizen is a booster because to simply tell the truth is to boost. This section has never had a boom, but a gradual growth; it has never moved backward, but has continued onward and upward; jealousies are few, because every locality has so much that they can afford to overlook the few shortcomings of the others, and as a whole the Halifax Country is peopled both winter and summer by residents who have selected this locality after having traversed various lands in search of the one spot which appealed to their fancy and contributed to their health and the well-being of their loved ones. Here there is recreation, including boating, motoring, golf, baseball, theaters, fishing, horseback riding, dancing, card parties, yachting, surf bathing and, in fact, all kinds of activities worth while.

This is the first of a series of articles, published by the co-operation of the following well-known residents, winter residents and business houses of the Halifax Country:

F. A. Seibert Again High Gun at Shoot at Seabreeze Club

This is the third week F. A. Seibert has won the High Gun prize at the Seabreeze Gun Club traps. Saturday he broke 96 out of 100 targets.

Horace Monser, who is stopping at the Clarendon, came in a close second, with 93 out of 100 targets. Mr. Monser is acknowledged as one of the best shots in America. He was on the 1916 American Olympic Gun Team and has won such a clean sweep abroad.

The traps were in excellent condition and the event successful in every respect.

WELCH OF GRAPE JUICE FAME HERE FOR VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Welch and little daughter, Barbara and Martha of Westfield, N. Y., are among the very pleasant guests at the Daytona Beach hotel. Mr. Welch is a son of Dr. C. E. Welch who is internationally famous as the largest producer of grape juice in the world.

When asked today how he accounted for the high price of grapes last year, Mr. Welch, who is interested in the grape juice production with his father said: "This is very simple, the determination of many people and particularly the Italians, living in this country, to defeat the eighteenth amendment to the constitution. These Italians entered the grape market and bought grapes by the car load last fall and then they shipped them to the various locations in the country where there are large Italian settlements. Then in small quantities the grapes were distributed among the individual Italian families who proceeded to make wine of them. These Italians and others felt that they must have their wine, at any rate they made up their minds they would have it; there is no doubt that many will continue to defy the prohibition law as long as they can, but the 'booze' business has been dealt an awful blow and most good people believe it is going forever from this country." Just how long the price of grapes will be kept up by this demand, no one can tell but there is every reason to believe the after-war readjustment now going on will eventually reach all kinds of business.

WALL ST.'S WAR FOR OPEN SHOP LOST—WALSH

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.) CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—The open shop movement is crushed.

So says Frank P. Walsh, student of economics and general counsel for the organized railway workers.

"Wall street set out to break organized labor," says Walsh.

"The steel interests were behind the movement. The first skirmish was at the Lockwood hearing in New York. Capital lost when it presented its open shop program.

"But the decisive battle was fought and lost by capital before the United States Railway Labor Board here in Chicago when the board decided not to set aside the agreements of the United States Railway Administration granting workers the right to organize and bargain collectively."

Explains Moves

Here is Walsh's explanation of the purpose and methods of Wall street's work:

"The real objective of the open shoppers was the reduction of the wage of the unskilled laborer in all industries. Of the 2,000,000 railway employees, 300,000 are unskilled.

"When the situation looked bad in the steel industry, capital massed all its forces to break the railway unions.

"It protested to the Railway Labor Board that the railways were going broke, that the agreements of the railway administration must be broken and organized capital permitted to deal with unorganized men.

Board Decision Saved Unions

"But the board decided that the railways were not going bankrupt because of wages that make up only 5 per cent of operating costs.

"In its decision, in which it upholds the right to collective bargaining and declares that the controversy on wages will be settled on the merits of the case and not upon the ability or inability of the railways to pay, the board has saved the life of the American labor union."

MICHIGAN DRUGGIST AND FAMILY ENJOYING BEACH

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Whitehead, who is the owner of several drug stores in northern Michigan. "Where we have been for a few weeks my folks saw I was suffering with the 'hookworm' and I guess I was as I felt languid and was about lifeless. After getting a few whiffs of the salt air from your wonderful beach, I am feeling like a different person. It is marvelous the change 24 hours has made in my feeling. We are going to stay right here for the rest of the time we remain in the south, it is sure good enough for me."

Food Sale Nets Large Sum for Beach Mission

The food sale conducted on Daytona Beach Saturday afternoon by the ladies of the Daytona Beach-Seabreeze Episcopal Mission church, was most successful in every way, more than $100 being realized during the sale, the money to be applied to the building fund for the peninsula mission church. Large crowds patronized the sale, encouraging the ladies who had donated the articles for sale. Miss Elsie Coates, Mrs. Harold Rose and Mrs. John Goebel were the committee in charge of the sale.

A meeting of the mission members will be held this evening at the Lyric theatre, Main street, Daytona Beach, to further perfect plans for the building of the peninsula mission.

The members of that faith have purchased the lot at the corner of Grandview avenue and Ora street, and are striving earnestly to complete the building fund, that plans for the edifice may be perfected and work commenced shortly, giving the Episcopalians a church building for services on the peninsula.

MILK DISTRIBUTOR OF ALBANY AT THE BEACH

Charles Rose of Albany, N. Y., is a recent arrival at the Seaside Inn. He is another beach visitor who is engaged in the milk distributing business on an extensive scale. He is the principal distributor for the city of Albany, having recently purchased his chief competitor.

Mr. Rose says few people understand the many items entering into the high cost of his business which he says is the reason for the producer complaining of the difference between the price he gets and the retail price in the cities. "I was pleased," said Mr. Rose, "with the interview with Mr. Caldwell of New York, published in the News a few days ago. He knows the business as well as any man in the country and what he said was absolutely correct. Under the present requirements of the health department in New York it costs fully twice as much to handle milk now as it formerly did."

DAYTONA BEACH HOTEL

At the Daytona Beach hotel are registered:

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Pine and family, Toledo, O.

Guests at Seaside Inn Enjoy "Tacky" Party Friday Night

Guests of the Seaside Inn enjoyed another gala time Friday evening. This time it was a "tacky" party and nearly every one in the hotel took part, even the landlord wore patched trousers.

Mrs. L. H. Hilsinger of Ohio, dressed as a maid of ancient times, was awarded the first lady's prize, while E. S. Welmer of Sunbury, Pa., who impersonated "Big Indian Chief," received the first gentleman's prize.

To begin the festivities the guests, with their quaint and unique costumes assembled on the second floor hall and were led to the ball room in the lobby below by Mrs. N. L. Noteman of New York, dressed as baby and Samuel Jolly of Sunbury, Pa., whose life saving costume simply brought down the company with laughter and applause. Dr. J. F. Kahler, who is a very large man, appeared as a female impersonator, while Mrs. E. S. Welmer took the part of Sis Hopkins, J. W. Forgie of England, was a real fine looking mulatto for the evening, while Mrs. Frogie was a fisherwoman imitating a sport she very much likes, while their daughters, Misses Gladys, Edna and Margorie, were genuine heart valentines. Perhaps the most unique woman's costume was worn by Mrs. C. A. Schultz of New York, it being constituted of the comic pages of Metropolitan newspapers. Her son, Bert Schultz, who impersonated a girl, took first boy's prize.

Music was furnished by the Prince George orchestra and the house full of guests spent all of Saturday morning telling of the loads of fun they had.

Lesson in Being Polite Given a Race Spectator

A lesson in politeness was given a spectator of the beach races yesterday afternoon which he will not soon forget. In endeavoring to make the crowd get back out of the way of oncoming automobile racers one of the officials asked a man about 28 years of age to stand back. Instead of complying, he told the official to "Go to hell." As soon as the race was concluded the official pointed out the irate young man and requested that he be taken in charge for having used abusive language.

This was done by Marshal Young and the offender was taken before Mayor L. W. Ramsey. At first he was very defiant, stated that he was a visitor and demanded his rights. He also declared that it was no offense to tell a man to "go to hell," where he came from and asked to be shown the Seabreeze ordinance covering the case. The mayor gave him a copy of the law and on ascertaining that the offense was punishable by a fine of $25, he cooled down and was very sorry that he had spoken so rashly. He apologized to the race official and the matter was forgotten.

When a person is asked to get back during the races it is to protect not only himself and other spectators, but the racers themselves who are entitled to more consideration than a mere onlooker. The crowd must stay back and will be kept back and no abusive language will be tolerated. Even though a winter visitor may come from a section of the country where it is considered good form to tell people to "go to hell" such language will not be tolerated in Daytona Beach as such talk isn't used in the best society in Florida.

A spectator may want to commit suicide and act as if he considered his life of no value, but he must remember that automobiles are valuable and other people have regard for their lives, which includes the racing drivers. Keep back of the wire and you will not be asked to get back.

Orlando Fair is Closed With Most Honors to Volusia

ORLANDO, Feb. 19.—Friday at the Sub-Tropical Mid-Winter Fair was of record in the program by the Fair Committee, as "Educational and Children's Day." A typical Florida sky and sun looked down on a dense crowd of more than 15,000 young and old children flocking in at the entrance gates. They did it, too, in all the daylight hours and long after curfew tolled the knell of parting day. It was a time and scene never before experienced in the history of the Sub-Tropical Fair and there are ten others that went ahead in the fair annals. The varied exhibits in the several buildings and tents about the Fair Grounds Park were given a careful and painstaking look-over, and the long and interesting demonstrations, spectacles and entertainment features were studied, absorbed and assimilated by children of 80 years and downward to tots pushed about in baby carriages by fond and crazy parents.

A rough estimate of the throng in the Fair Grounds at 5 p. m. gave the attendance at 18,000. Many in the crowd had been in on all four days and were there to see the finish on Saturday. These voted the Fair the most successful ever held. The stellar attraction on Friday was the Lilliputian Circus in the race track arena. But the parade of gay bedecked school children from the high schools, and the Montverde Industrial school, as well as Lake county cadets and girls in uniforms, got a splendid ovation and reception. There was a baseball game, races, airplane stunts, a concert and free demonstrations. Johnnie J. Jones shows on the Midway and other devices held the fairgoers until late in the night.

In spite of the multitude of attractions outside, thousands of folks, from every known section of the land, packed into the exhibit buildings and headed toward Volusia's arch. They stopped to hear Mrs. Caroline Morehead, of Tampa, tell about Sealdsweat grapefruit. This lady, with a gift of convincing argument presided over the Florida Citrus Exchange demonstration, and told of the superior excellence of Florida grapefruit. Having sampled the product the crowd passed to Florida's most versatile county and stayed and wondered. The Volusia Exhibit committee, made up in part of Earl W. Brown, S. B. Crosby, W. E. Dunaway and R. F. B. Roper, were put to it to answer all the questions propounded by numerous inquisitive individuals among the sightseers. The late Mr. Webster's compilation of words did not suffice, so

Mr. Brown was forced to record to such facts and figures as were handy. He sold some of them, for instance, that little old Volusia had won the Grand Prize for county exhibits, carrying with it a—substantial cash consideration. This some of them knew on Thursday. They didn't know, however, that Volusia had been awarded by the judges 65 and more blue ribbons on agricultural and horticultural products. Some record, is it not? But listen, Mr. Madam and Miss! Her 65 blue ribbons compare with 17 for Seminole, 19 for West Orange and 3—count 'em 1, 2, 3—for Lake and Osceola.

It is known that Volusia took home from the Fair awards on special exhibits to the amount of 75 per cent and more of all the prizes given. If you don't believe this, ask F. B. Nordman, of No. 9 at Ormond, or Spring Thorpe, of DeLand, or any out of the non-interested fair-goers.

The Alpha Cottage Industries and Carpell's Jellies and marmalades came in for a thorough inspection. Plantation No. 9 was sampled and inspected, and some of the sweetness therein taken home for interior decoration. There were many who looked over Barney Dillard's pea vine beans and marvelled at the notariated statement wherein it is said one pea vine covered a space of one-quarter acre in Volusia's midst. They went over by Tatum & Dutton's naval stores display, and got S. B. Crosby, of Daytona, to show them samples of Volusia rich earth. It was only then they believed.

The Fair ended Saturday. It has been the most successful exposition of Central Florida's growth ever presented and its message will be taken into many thousands of northern homes and in the memory of it Volusia and her exhibit will stand out with cameo distinction of deflection.

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—"My father's estate has never amounted to a billion dollars and has been materially reduced by large gifts from the principal, which he has made during recent years," said John D. Rockefeller, Jr. in a letter to a newspaper here today.

ASK THAT WAYCROSS ROAD BE NAMED AS A STATE AID ROAD

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 18.—Three sets of resolutions, requesting the Florida state road department in session here Thursday to designate the Waycross road as a state aid road and to concentrate its energies upon completing the hard surfacing of this together with the proposed coastal highway to Brunswick and State Road No. 2, known as the Lake City road early as possible, were unanimously adopted at a rousing and largely attended good roads convention held in the auditorium of the chamber of commerce Thursday.

A committee was named by Chairman Frank O. Miller to present the resolutions to the road department Thursday afternoon.

The resolution pertaining to the Waycross road is as follows.

"Whereas, that portion of the Dixie Highway, lying in Nassau county, known as the 'Waycross Short Line' is now and has been for many years in a deplorable condition and is at some seasons of the year almost impassable, and

"Whereas, the hard surfacing of the Nassau county part of the Waycross road will make the entire route available for use and will add greatly to our tourist traffic, which will benefit every section of the state of Florida.

"Therefore, be it resolved that this convention composed of numerous tax payers and citizens of the state of Florida, do urgently request the state road department now in session in the city of Jacksonville, to immediately take such action as is necessary for the completion of the hard surface road through Nassau county on the Waycross route; and that this convention also expresses the opinion that it would be to the best interests of the state of Florida to do this work, even though other important road work in the state should have to be delayed."

Over 200 Present. Members of the state road department together with representatives from the Georgia state highway commission, Georgia counties and cities and many Florida cities including West Palm Beach, Miami, Daytona, Tampa and Key West were in attendance and the audience numbered over 200.

Sentiment was expressed that the road department should go ahead with the highways leading into Florida and complete them before undertaking the completion of road projects in the state. Statements were made to this effect and letters and telegrams from various parts of the state were presented showing this sentiment was state-wide.

This expression was given at the request of Judge H. B. Philips, the chairman of the road department who asked:

"Shall the road department concentrate on these roads or try to do a thousand and one things that cannot be completed for several years?" Georgia Men Active

Although the call for the convention by Mr. Miller was on the Waycross road question, appeals were made for the other two highways and after the Waycross road resolution was passed, the resolutions on the other roads were adopted in turn. Georgia delegates, boosting the coastal highway made a determined fight for their resolution, although not attacking the Waycross road.

The Florida improvements asked to be made are almost wholly in Nassau county, which is traversed by 23 miles of the Waycross road, 11 miles of the Brunswick coastal road, and two and a half miles of the Lake City road.

Judge H. B. Philips of the state road department, referred to the Waycross road as the road department's "orphan," but asserted that it would be cared for as long as he was a member of the department, for the reason that he thought its improvement would be the best thing for most of the people of Florida.

The Waycross road, Judge Philips said, had never been made a federal aid project, but it should be. Much preliminary work would have to be done, he said, but there is $3,000,000 of federal aid funds available for Florida roads—sufficient to take care of this road.

Who's Who In the Halifax Country

ARTHUR EDWARD CHILDS
President Daytona Public Service Co.

A man who has had considerable to do with the rapid growth of the Halifax Country, from a physical standpoint of the expense of the towns and cities comprising this great community, is Arthur E. Childs, president of the Daytona Public Service Company who is in the city today on business connected with his local company.

While he finds little time to spend in Daytona, because of his multitudinous duties as head of scores of public service companies, an insurance company and securities business, Mr. Childs is a devotee of the Halifax Country and has at all times the best interests of the community at heart. His exceptional business insight, and business acumen, has placed him at the head of a large number of public service companies, such as the local one is, through the New England states, as well as through the south.

Mr. Childs, as few people are aware among even his friends, is Canadian born, and had a large part in the development of the world's greatest engineering project, the harnessing of Niagara Falls for power purposes. He was born in Montreal, the city which has developed so many engineering geniuses, receiving his education at McGill and at Central Technical College in London, beginning at the bottom rung of the electrical ladder as wireman with the Canadian Central Electric company, and after showing his exceptional ability was made assistant to Dr. Coleman Sellers in the Niagara Falls development. He was later made district engineer for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company at Philadelphia, and still later was northeastern manager of the Electric Storage Battery Co., at Boston.

In 1896 he organized the Light, Heat and Power Corporation which acquired light, heating and power plants throughout the eastern states and at the same time became actively engaged with a large number of gas, electric and power plants throughout the country, of which the Daytona Public Service Company is one.

In addition to his connection with the many companies throughout the east, Mr. Childs organized in 1902, the Columbian National Life Insurance Company, of which he has been president since that time, and is also president of the American Investment Securities company, the Hotel Somerset Company, Boston and Worcester electric companies, the Massachusetts Lighting Company and scores of others.

Mr. Childs is a member of the Algonquin and University Clubs of Boston, the University Club of New York and the Country Club of Brookline.
